The Robertet Group presents a new hexane-free raw materials extraction process

Grasse, June 1, 2023

At SIMPPAR 2023, the Robertet Group reveals a brand-new raw material extraction process using a green, biodegradable solvent. A revolution in the world of perfumery for the world leader in natural products.

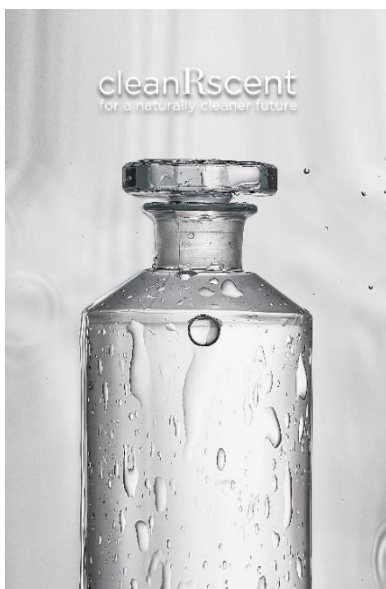

This patented innovation has given rise to CleanRscent, the first hexane-free range of absolutes and specialties.

As a pioneer in green science, with 8% of its sales devoted to R&D, Robertet invests massively every year to move the sector towards more virtuous standards, respectful of the environment and people.

This innovation will allow perfumers to enrich their creative palette with three new hexane-free ingredients:

- Bourbon vanilla absolute
- Roasted tonka absolute
- Colorless cypress absolute

To pursue its green innovation approach, Robertet continues to conduct research in partnership with the University of Toulouse to successfully biosource all the components of this hexane-free solvent.

About Robertet :
